INDORE ATTRACTIONS

RAJWADA

The Rajwada Palace is a majestic seven-story monument in the heart of Indore, built in 1747 A.D. by Malhar Rao Holkar. It uniquely blends Maratha, Mughal, and French architecture. Despite suffering several fires, this iconic structure has been restored and stands as the central symbol of the Holkar dynasty and the city's rich history.

Krishnapura Chhatra

The Krishnapura Chhatris are a magnificent cluster of cenotaphs established by the Holkar Dynasty primarily in the mid-19th century (circa 1800s). Situated near the River Kanh, they serve as the revered cremation sites and memorials for key Holkar rulers, including Maharani Krishna Bai Holkar.

Lal Baag Palace

Lal Bagh Palace is a spectacular, three-story historical landmark in Indore, built by the Holkar dynasty between 1886 and 1921. It is a masterpiece of Italian Renaissance Revival architecture. The palace is famous for its lavish, European-style interiors, including a spring-mounted wooden ballroom floor, Italian marble, and elaborate decoration inspired by Versailles. Its main gates are a large-scale replica of Buckingham Palace's.

Pitra Parvat

Pitra Parvat is a hill in Indore, Madhya Pradesh, home to the Pitreshwar Hanuman Mandir, known for its 72-foot-tall, 108-ton statue of Lord Hanuman in a unique meditative posture. The name "Pitra Parvat" comes from its dual significance, it is believed to bring peace to ancestors' souls (Pitra), and it features an environmental initiative where visitors can plant trees in memory of loved ones.

INDORE NEAR BY ATTRACTION

OMKARESHWAR

81KM AWAY FROM INDORE

Dedicated to Lord Shiva, the Omkareshwar temple is nestled in the Omkar mountain, an island in the middle of River Narmada. The temple has a large sabha mandap (prayer hall) standing on 60 brown huge stone pillars. The five storeys of the temple have different deities each and three prayer services are conducted in the temple everyday.

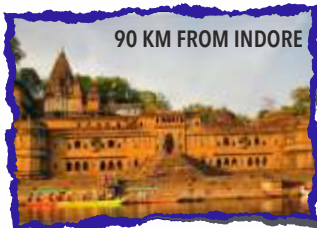

Mahakaleshwar

The town fallen from heaven to bring heaven to earth", was how the famous Sanskrit poet Kalidasa had described the ancient city of Ujjain. Located at the heart of Madhya Pradesh, this ancient city is a labyrinth of bustling lanes that weave through temple clusters, earning Ujjain the moniker, "the city of temples".

51KM AWAY FROM INDORE

Maheshwar Fort

90 KM FROM INDORE

Maheshwar is a historic and spiritual town located on the banks of the sacred Narmada River in the Khargone district of Madhya Pradesh, India. It is a significant pilgrimage and tourist destination known for its rich history, majestic fort, ancient temples, beautiful river ghats, and as a major center for handloom weaving, particularly of the famous Maheshwari sarees.

Jam gate

The Jam Gate is a picnic spot in Maheshwar Tehsil of Khargone District in the state of Madhya Pradesh, India. It is on Mhow-Mandleshwar Road. It was built by Rani Ahilyabai Holkar in 1791. It is approximately 30 km from Mhow, 50 km from Indore, 33 km from Maheshwar and 75 km from district headquarter Khargone.

40 KM FROM INDORE

Mandav

80KM FROM INDORE

Mandu is an ancient fort city in the central Indian state of Madhya Pradesh. It's surrounded by stone walls dotted with darwazas (gateways). It's also known for its Afghan architectural heritage. Landmark buildings include Hoshang Shah's Tomb, a domed marble mausoleum, and the vast Jami Masjid mosque, with courtyards framed by colonnades. The imposing, centuries-old Jahaz Mahal palace stands between 2 lakes.
