

Brief Bio Data

Name: Dr. Manish Kaushal

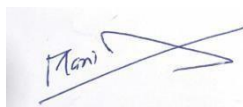

I am a Professor in Department of General Surgery at MGM Medical College, Indore, where I have been instrumental in establishing a specialized unit for Breast, Endocrine, and Cancer Surgery.

I have consistently attended every meeting of the Association of Breast Surgeons of India (ABSI) since its inception. I had the distinct privilege of organizing the 4th Annual Conference of ABSI in Indore from June 26th to 28th, 2015. This conference achieved significant success and effectively conveyed the importance of dedicated breast disease management.

Furthermore, I have participated in numerous international breast conferences, including the European Breast Cancer Conference, the esteemed St. Gallen Breast Conference, and the Advanced Breast Cancer Conference in Lisbon. These experiences have reinforced my conviction that the ABSI consensus statement, "Indian solution for Indian problems," accurately reflects our unique challenges and approaches.

Currently, I serve as the Director of Academics for the west Zone of ABSI 2024-2026 tenure. Most recently, I organized the ABSI Midterm conference (MIDCON) 2026 in Indore on February 28th and March 1st, 2026, at the Super Specialty Hospital Auditorium within Govt. MGM Medical College, Indore. This conference was attended by 300 delegates and postgraduate students.

We regularly conduct concise informational sessions on self-breast examinations and breast cancer awareness programs for female social groups, girls' colleges, and higher secondary schools. Concurrently, we also deliver informative sessions on chemoport care and breast cancer management to local nursing and paramedical students.
